

EXPAND THE CIRCLE REACH ALL VICTIMS

Stand with victims of crime in New Hampshire during National Crime Victims' Rights Week

National Crime Victims' Rights Week is April 8th - 14th and the theme is "Expand the Circle: Reach All Victims." The goal of this year's initiative is to emphasize the importance of inclusion; to address how we can work together to ensure that every crime victim has access to support; and how professionals, organizations, and communities can work in tandem to reach all victims. Right now, NH has the opportunity to join 35 other states across the country in establishing constitutional rights for victims of crime by passing CACR 22 or "Marsy's Law."

Please join the NH Attorney General's Office, the NH Coalition Against Domestic and Sexual Violence, and Victims, Inc., for a panel discussion about Marsy's Law and the exciting work being done to provide basic rights and protections to the most vulnerable in NH.

In addition to the panel discussion, information about NH organizations that provide services and support to crime victims in the Granite State will be available starting at 5 p.m.

WHAT: Panel discussion with NH leaders about Marsy's Law and the future of crime victims' rights in the Granite State

WHEN: Wednesday, April 11th at 5:30 p.m.

WHERE: UNH School of Law, Concord, NH

The discussion will be moderated by Lyn Schollett, Executive Director of the NH Coalition Against Domestic and Sexual Violence, and panelists include:

Governor Christopher T. Sununu

NH Attorney General Gordon MacDonald

Senator Donna Soucy

Lynda Ruel, Director of the Office of Victim/Witness Assistance

Chief Andrew Shagoury, Tuftonboro Police Department

Strafford County Attorney Tom Velardi

Meg Kennedy Dugan, Executive Director of Voices Against Violence

Bob Marriott, crime victim
